ABOUT NAGHMEH

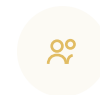

Committed to People and Possibilities

Naghmeh Sheikholeslami founded Seven Century Real Estate in 2007 when the property market began to rise, heal, and evolve after the financial crisis shook everything around the world. Originally from Tehran, Naghmeh moved to Dubai in 2005 at the age of 27 and began offering tourism services for new residents who had recently moved to Dubai, all while taking care of her son at the same time.

After founding Seven Century Real Estate, Naghmeh strived to perfect her company. She has always aimed for Gold rankings from the Dubai Land Department and continuously receives appreciation awards from DAMAC Properties, along with various other developers.

Those awards have led to the success of her real estate company, resulting in the establishment of a Property Management Company under the same handle "Seven Century Property Management". Clients from all over the world who own properties in Dubai trust her property management company to handle their properties for them.

In her personal life, Naghmeh takes care of her two sons and her dogs. She's a fan of many Persian music artists and is very much into sports.
